Dear FCCNY,

I thought you might want to pass this site onto your membership:
<http://www.squidoo.com/best-books-about-china-for-adoptive-families>

It's a list of books about China and adoption that I have talked about at presentations at Colorado Heritage Camps.

I am mother of a 13-year-old from China and also a librarian, so over the years I have tried to keep current on books about adoption and about China.

Several people have asked me to post the list on the web, and I've finally been able to put together a site with pictures of the covers along with links to reviews. The categories include books for moms, dads, teens, tweens, younger children, and a new section for boys.

Warm regards,
Ellen Mackey
